

Verse 1:

I am dreaming
About the meaning
Of Life, the Universe
And everything

If ever there's an answer
It might be forty-two
But who says that it isn't
Just a hoax?

It's very likely
That the Almighty
Took into account
That numbers might be wrong

For those who don't know counting
So he or she was shouting:
“Well, let's go for music
Then!”

Verse 2:

I surely should consider
That sounds are based on Maths
But who can prove that it's not just
The other way around?

When John Williams detected
That five tunes are enough
To show that human beings
Are worth a closer look

He surely was aware
Of music everywhere
To get across
That humans have a mind

And finally I ask myself
whether these five tunes could be the question to the answer
Forty-two

Refrain:

What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?

Bridge:

Can you feel it? Have you found?
Keep on searching! Stay your ground!
Can you hear it? It's your sound?

Refrain:

What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?
What is forty-two?
